

ABOUT THE COMPANY

NCD Medical Corporation is a unique third party reseller committed to providing high quality and economical healthcare solutions. NCD has been providing electronic/technology solutions to America's finest organizations since 1987. NCD Medical has established itself as a company committed to quality, dependability and customer service when delivering reconditioned medical equipment and services.

The reconditioning process - focuses first on sourcing quality equipment that is in a condition which enables us to recondition it to original specifications. We generally have all equipment inspected by the vendor or qualified technician prior to purchase. All equipment is brought to our facility in Ohio where it is inspected, tested, reconditioned and recalibrated by the vendor or qualified tech. The equipment is delivered and installed, once again, by the vendor or qualified third party. This process insures first rate image quality and extended life cycles. All equipment is guaranteed to meet or exceed the manufacturers recommended specifications, appears like new and qualifies for a vendor service agreement.

Cost Containment - is what NCD Medical is all about. We can save you as much as 50% or more on the purchase of reconditioned equipment or systems. We also will recondition your equipment the same way we recondition ours - saving you thousands of dollars in acquisition costs. We pay top dollar for your surplus equipment or we can reduce your purchase with a substantial trade-in credit. We have many ways to reduce your costs.

Finance alternatives - are available through NCD Medical as well. We have established financing to accommodate nearly any purchasing situation. We offer many aggressive lease to own programs designed to meet your needs including capital leases, operating leases, custom leases and rentals. Whatever your budget, we have a program for you.

Turnkey solutions - are available if the process of sourcing equipment is too time consuming, costly and difficult. We can identify equipment, negotiate its purchase, transport, recondition, deliver and install it at your facilities. Additionally we can arrange the sale and removal of equipment to be replaced as well as provide drawings, training and financing. We can provide all or any portion of this process.

The industry is unique in that it requires medical organizations to provide quality services with reduced budgets and a growing population. NCD Medical realizes these conditions and offers alternatives that can accommodate difficult situations without compromising quality or service. Give us the opportunity to provide the right solution at the right cost!
